SILK O.LOUGHLIN HELPS WHITE SOX TO BEAT YANKS

He Makes Rank Decision in Sixth When New Yorkers Have Chance to Win.

ARMY OF CHICAGO FANS HOOT HIM FOR BLUNDER

CHICAGO, June 4 .- Two things in onnection with the Yankee-White Sox baseball game this afternoon were prominently had. One was the playing of the Yankees, who were beaten 12 to 4. The other was a decision against the Yankees by Silk O'Loughlin. Umpires err once in a while as do players. out not often do they blunder into as transparently an incorrect decision, and one which had considerable bearing on the game, as O'Loughlin did this after-and a poor one. The Yankees were clos ing up in a hard fight when it happened. but the decision put the Sox in the way of three runs to which they were titled, reestablished a comfortable lead for them, and they battered the Yanks.

The score was 5 to 4 in favor of the Sox when the later went to bat in the eight inning. Felsch hit over Magee's cupola and, catching the latter off his guard, stretched his hit into a double. Schalk bunted, and right there broke out all the trouble.

Schalk's bunt was a feeble little fly in front of the plate. Fisher dashed in for it, caught it as he was plunging forward and held the ball while he pitched headlong. Flesch had run to third, and when Fisher scrambled to his feet he threw to second for a double play.

Said Fisher Trapped Ball.

But as O'Loughlin saw it there had been no double play. He contended that Fisher had trapped the ball, and not only was Felsch safe at third, but Schalk was safe at first. As soon as Fisher recovered from his amazement at this stormed. So did other New Tork players. Fisher slammed his glove to the ground and Nunamaker tossed his mask in the air. Donovan, Schaefer, Baker, Pipp and other generally mild

Spectators, and there were many of them, to whom the fact that Fisher had caught the ball was plainly visible were as astonished as the players at the detailon, and they hooted and hissed O'Loughlin. Though the decision was favorable to the home team, it was so plainly a mistaken one that disapproval from the fans was positive and widespread. They subjected Silk to a lively sanning.

Was yanked out with three runs in, two men on the paths and two out. Jarmon the men on the paths and two out. Jarmon had been tallied.

From that time until the ninth he was invincible when there was any danger. He also started well in that inning secretary the paths and two out. Jarmon had been tallied.

From that time until the ninth he was invincible when there was any danger. He also started well in that inning secretary the paths and Foster hard and made it two straight from the Red Sox to-day. The grade length of the second. Bagby started for light, who had relieved Enzmann a few minutes before. Cable was sent in to hit for Schreier and doubled past third. Schwert ran for Hal. Durgin walked out with three runs in, two out. Jarmon was and Win by Score of 9 to 3.

CLEVELAND, June 4.—The Indians hit Mays and Foster Hard and Win by Score of 9 to 3.

CLEVELAND, June 4.—The Indians hit Mays and Foster hard and made it two straight from the Red Sox to-day. The score was 9 to 3. Mays was knocked out in that inning by retiring Callahan, who batted for English, who had relieved Enzmann a few minutes before. Cable was sent in to hit for Schreier and doubled past third. Schwert ran for Hall Durgin walked.

They knocked Tex Russell out of the bases. Healey then broke up the box in the sixth imming on hits by Gilhooley, Gedeon, Baker, Pipp and Peck and climbed to within one run of the Sox. They diprobably have lost on the strength of what transpired in the closing innings, but they had a chance, and if things hadn't happened as they did it the turbulent sixth the chances are Cullop would have relieved Fisher and made scoring much less casy for the Sox than it was off Allen Russell and his punctured support.

Fisher didn't pitch a good game by a good deal. The Sox hit him hard they was relieved by Alien Russell just after J. Collins's clean up three bagger in the sixth. The Sox hit him hard the same freedom they bestowed on Fisher's offerings, and matters were made worse offerings, and matters were made worse for the Yankee youngster by muffing and booding which took place in the interior and exterior lines of the New York defence.

Faber Is Invincible.

To take a chance on Healey. This filled (Garbier, Faber 1, 2011, 60 a 2.5 and Faber). The Low day have a slashing line hit to tet; the game with a slashing line hit to telf. The many and 2 achore, and 2 achore, and 2 achore, and 2 achore, followed by singles by Zimmerman, Egan if things hadn't happened as they did to the turbulent sixth the chances are Cullop would have relieved Fisher and made scoring much less casy for the Sox than it was off Allen Russell and his punctured support.

The Sox flayed Russell with the same freedom they bestowed on Fisher's offerings, and matters were made worse offerings and matters were made worse offerings, and matters were made worse offerin

The Yankees after dr Edward Russell from his not able to even scratch the pitching of at Elizabeth Red Faber. They were outplayed all the score: right, all right, but the Sox would have NEWA had a deal harder battle to conduct if Silk hadn't perpetrated his umpirical fliver in the sixth.

After that episode the Yanks were not in the proper, cool and calculating frame of mind to field or sit up to the require-ments of whatever chance they had to make their uphill warfare successful.

Decision Helps White Sox.

The decision gave three runs to the White Sox, that's a sure thing. The side would have been retired without a triple by J. Collins followed, crowding the plate with three runs.

The Yankees played poorly enough on their own account, their pitching was poor and their fielding poor, but they were battling hard.

They knocked Tex Russell out of the box in the sixth inning on hits by Gilhooley, Gedeon, Baker, Plpp and Peck and climbed to within a slashing line hit to left centre for a single Witter to left and colling for the plate and the crowd halted and began to root. Zacher doubled to left, and the crowd halted and began to root. Zacher doubled to left, but fast fielding forced Witter to halt at third. Capt. Zimmerman was passed to take a chance on Healey. This filled the bases. Healey then broke up the game with a slashing line hit to left.

Metropolitan district.
This ruling was made after the 1907 championship, in which Eben M. Byers of Pittsburg, who belonged to the St. Andrews (oil Chia, at which the championship was played, entered and reached the final round. He was beaten by Jerome D. Travers, but so much comment was made upon the fact that an outsider almost captured the title that the rule barring non-residents was passed. So Nelson Whitnay cannot play at Nassau, no matter how much his may desire to do so.
